Infant is killed in car accident

A two-year-old infant child was killed in an accident on Saturday afternoon on County Road 2 miles west of Minden when the car his father, Wilfred G. Pinske, was driving travelled off the roadway as it descended a hill and rolled over several times.

Another passenger in the car, four-year-old Gabriela Agnelica Pinske suffered cuts and bruises.

Dr. H. E. Good of Haliburton was the coroner and Provincial Constable W.F. Devereau investigated the accident, in which it is estimated that $2,000.00 was done to the car.

An eighteen-year-old Toronto youth, Gary J. Doncaster, was charged with not having a driver's licence following an accident on Saturday evening. The Doncaster vehicle was westbound on the Essonville Line when Doncaster applied brakes while rounding a curve, slid sideways on loose gravel, and collided with a vehicle driven by Dale K. Holland of R.R. # 1, Tory Hill. A passenger in the Holland vehicle, eighteen-year-old Connie Bowers, was taken to the Haliburton Hospital with a fracture. Damage was estimated at $800.00 to the Doncaster vehicle and $600.00 to the Holland vehicle, by Constable W.A.R. Buchanan.

Two accidents occurred early Sunday morning on County road 2 near Ingoldsby.

In the first accident, a vehicle driven by Paul Daniel Ledger of Willowdale age 23, was southbound on the road when the wheels dropped onto the shoulder. The vehicle then drove off the roadway, grazed a stump, broke off a six-inch tree, and came to rest against another tree and a fence. Ledger is charged under the Highay Traffic Act with operating an unsafe vehicle. Provincial Constable J. G. Martin estimated the damage to be $700.00.

In the second accident, seventeen-year-old Michael Elder was charged with failing to share half the roadway when meeting an oncoming car. The Elder vehicle and a car driven by Steven D. Warrington, 19, of Etobicoke met on the crest of a hill. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $300.00 by Provincial Constable W.L. Clendenning.

Minden Carnival set to go

The Annual Minden Rotary Club Carnival is all set and ready to go and it promises to be a good one. The two day event will be held on Wednesday and Thursday July 31 and August 1.

The big event will open on Wednesday night with a gala parade starting at 6.30 p.m. followed by many activities at the Minden Community Centre.

In front of the arena the monster midway will be in action with rides for all the members of the family. Also included will be a non-stop bingo, games, beer garden, displays and food booths.

On Thursday evening among the many highlights will be the performance of the Carling Aerobatic Team at 6.30 p.m. On this same evening the giant 50-50 draw will be held. It's free admission on both nights and all proceeds will be used for Community Service.

So why not make it a date now to attend the annual Minden Rotary Carnival on Wednesday and Thursday July 31 and Thursday, August1. You will be disappointed if you don't.

The two big nights will hav plenty of fun and activity for everyone so why not bring along the entire family to Minden for the big event. See you there.

Boat goes out of control

Swimmers escape injuries in area boating accident

Mrs. Larry Arsenault of Toronto and two swimmers miraculously escaped injury when the new fourteen-foot boat Mrs. Arsenault was trying out in the vicinity of Caribou Lodge on Lake Kashagawigamog went out of control.

Mrs. Arsenault had reversed from the dock, and put the boat in gear. The throttle opened wide, and in order to miss the two swimmers, Mrs. Arsenault hit the dock. The driver was thrown clear of the boat, and the boat landed upside down on the beach beside Mrs. Arsenault, who suffered only bruises. Provincial Constable B.J. Connelly estimates that damage in the amount of $400.00 was done to the windshield seats and deck.

In Minden area

Fire hazard is reported

In the period between Friday, July 19 and press-time Monday, July 22, the Ministry of Natural Resources advises us that six new forest fires were reported in the Minden area. Five of these were believed to be started by campers in the bush. Fortunately, all of these fires are under control.

The Ministry of Natural Resources cancelled all fire Permits as of Friday, July 19, although incinerator permits are still available. The Minsitry strongly urges that campers use propane stoves for cooking in the bush instead of open fires.

On August 3

Harcourt Fun Fair adds new events to old

When things need to be done, the size of the communtiy matters very little. Once again Harcourt and surrounding area residents have proven this by putting together a community fair that far surpasses the last two years' attraction.

Every event last year proved to be a success, so the "Fun Fair" Committee tried to bring back these and new events. This year, as they say in show business, they have something to please new and old. It will be held on Saturday, August 3.

One of the main events of the third annual Fun Fair will be a ball tournament starting at 12 noon and carrying on until 10 p.m.

At 10.30 a.m. the children's races will be held and this should supply plenty of excitement for the youngsters.

Starting at 11.00 a.m. the midway will swing into action and will continue on until 7 p.m.

At 1.00 p.m. the parade will get underway with bagpipes, majorettes, floats and bicycles. Everyone loves a parade so a large crowd is expected to be on hand for this one.

For you bingo enthusiasts it will be bingo from 2 to 4 p.m.

During the afternoon there will be plenty of fun and entertainment for young and old with the highlights being Sky Jumpers and Acrobatics. Also on the afternoon agenda will be a tug-o-war, pioneer log sawing contest, ladies nail driving contest and "Wimpy" the Clown.

Some of the top talent from the area will be in Harcourt on this day for the amateur talent contest scheduled to go on from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Thirst may be slacked from the many refreshment booths spaced in the grounds, and for the adults, an outdoor Beer Garden will be available. This will be open from 12 noon to 9 p.m.

Most of the crowd attending the big day will want to stay around for the evening, so a buffet supper will be served commencing at 4.30.

Young and old will have the opportunity to top of the day by tripping the light fantastic either at the Teen dance to be held outdoors or at the Adult Dance to be held indoors. Both dances will start at 9 p.m. and go on until 1 a.m.

It looks like a big Fun Day so plan now to attend.

Haliburton Highlights

The subject of parking meters in a downtown business section of any community is always a topic of conversation. In the village of Haliburton some people like them while others think that they are bad for business. This week one of our readers sent us the following to publish in our paper.

When some merchants in downtown Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, decided that parking-meter fines were driving away a lot of business to a nearby shopping center, they hired an "anti-meter maid" to feed almost-expired meters with nickels before the meter maid could issue $2 tickets. The wages and expenses of the "anti-meter maid" were paid by several downtown businessmen and by contributions from grateful nonticketed motorists. In the first three months of the campaign, fine revenue dropped almost $2500 a month.

In recent issues we have been bringing up the subject of speeding on the main street of Haliburton. It is impossible for the OPP to see everything so if you as citizens see someone speeding write down their licence number and immediately report it to the OPP.

The Summer season is well under way and it will soon be time for our annual Summer Carnival with all the fun and work the Carnival brings.

It is time to think of an entry for the parade, and individuals, groups, businesses are urged this year to get involved. This is our County Centennial Year so let us make the summer Carnival a continuation of the enthusiasm shown at Ontario Place on Haliburton Day.

Hockey players address Rotary Club meeting

The Rotary club of Haliburton were pleased to have with them two members from the Haliburton Hockey Haven to speak at their regular meeting held at the United Church in Haliburton last Thursday night.

The first speaker was Gerry MacNamara a former netminder who is now a scout for the Toronto Maple Leafs. He says that he loves his job and one of the real highlights in his travels is his scouting trips that take him to Europe four times every year.

He had high praise for the Maple Leaf management and stated that he is proud to be part of such a great organization.He pointed out that the Leafs will have a strong contender in the National Hockey League this coming year with the addition of some veterans received in recent trades and went on to say that the six rookies from last year will be much better this year.

The second speaker was Peter Marin of the Toronto Toros of the W.H.A. He told the members that with the addition of such players as Frank Mahovolich, Paul Henderson and the just recently required Czechslovakian hockey star Vaclav Nedomansky that the Toros could ice a team as strong as the Leafs. The Toros will be star studded this year and Marin hopes to be able to crack the line-up.

In the question and answer period that followed both players fielded questions on such subjects as the W.H.A. farm system, Canada-Russia series, players salaries and others.

The two speakers were introduced by Art Ward.

Four members of Curry Motors Limited are shown looking over the plans of their new body shop which is at present under construction on Highway 121 just outside of Haliburton and across from Haliburton Marine Limited. Ontario Forest Fire Prevention Act helps prevent forest fires

By Cec Mumford
Fire Control Supervision

The first Forest Protection Legislation was placed in the Ontario Statutes in 1878 as "An Act To Preserve The Forests From Destruction By Fire".

This Act led to the establishment in 1885 of Ontario's first system of fire ranging which was also the first working system of organized forest fire protection in North America.

It was established under the Woods and Forests Branch, and it provided for fire rangers to be appointed and placed on Crown lands that were licenced for logging, with the expenses shared by the Crown and the Licencee.

In 1900 the Act was amended to provide for placing fire rangers on unlicenced Crown Lands at public expense. The amendment also required the appointment of fire rangers on timber licenced areas whether requested by the timber licencee or not, one half of the costs to be borne by the Province, and one half by the licencee. This was a major step in that all Crown Lands became subject to forest fire regulations.

Following the disastrous fires in 1916 (among which was the Matheson Fire where 223 lives were lost) the Forest Fire Prevention Act was amended to provide greater control over the use of fire and became the basis of present legislation.

The present Act is a comprehensive set of statutes and regulations which provides protection for our forests by controlling the use of fire without placing undue restriction on the individual.

It permits people to have fires in the forest for cooking, for instance, but lays down certain common sense rules to help the individual do it safely.

The Act also regulates such things as, smoking in the forests, burning garbage, igniting fireworks, clearing land, providing assistance to suppress fires, operating power saws, working in a forest, etc. and provides penalties for contraventions.

If you live, work, or play in or around our forests it is to your advantage to know the regulations that apply. A copy of the Forest Fires Prevention Act can be obtained from the nearest office of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Hydro wire shortage hits area

A material shortage anticipated last spring by Ontario Hydro has hit the cottage country in Georgian Bay Region. This region extends from Lindsay on the east, north to Britt (north of Minden), includes much of Haliburton County, all of Muskoka and about half of the District of Parry Sound.

Area offices throughout the region have been told to suspend installation of new services to summer cottages because of an acute shortage of triplex wire. Triplex is used to make overhead connections from the customer's building to the supply at the road. This restiriction is expected to last at least three weeks.

In April P. J. Garlough, manager of Hydro's Georgian Bay Region, said that a world wide shortage of material had necessitated the establishment of priorities for supplying new services to customers.

The maintenance of service to existing customers and provision of new services to all-year residential customers and job creating industries are given top priority. Installation of new summer cottage services is limited to the number possible with the material remaining after meeting the other priorities.

If customers can supply the material Hydro will still connect their cottage service and make a payment to the owner for the wire.

OPP announces new recruiting program

Ontario Provincial Police Commissioner Harold Graham has announced a province-wide recruiting program for the Force. The new program is designed to assist the OPP to more accurately reflect the make-up of Ontario's society.

In making the announcement, Commissioner Graham said, "Ontario has probably one of the most diverse populations of any area in the world. We have localities where French is the predominant language, and other places where people from particular countries have concentrated their homes in various communities.

"In addition, the OPP is keenly interested in recruiting more officers from our native population. Because of these factors, our recruiting program is paying particular attention to encouraging young men and women of diverse backgrounds to join us. We hope to be able to have officers stationed throughout the province who speak both the primary and secondary languages of that area.

"We are very pleased with the successful introduction of women into the ranks of the OPP, and wish to have more of them join the Force. It is our belief that a great many women are particularly well suited to police work. Our female officers are required to perform all law enforcement duties."

The OPP will encourage applications through an extensive advertising campaign in local newspapers throughout Ontario. Other recruiting efforts include mobile displays, posters, and descriptive literature.

The educational standards demanded of recruits to the Ontario Provincial Police are continuing to rise, in keeping with the necessity to have police officers with a broader knowledge. Officers joining the Force during the present recruitment drive must have a minimum of Grade 12. The force is particularly interested in members who have either liberal arts educations, technical specialties, or who have studied criminology at the university or community college levels.

Provincial police officers who successfully complete their basic training receive an initial salary of $10,835.00 per year. All uniforms, allowances for travel, generous paid vacations, good prospects for promotion, pay increases, pension, and a wide range of fringe benefits are provided. Anyone seeking more information about a career in the OPP should contact their local detachment, or Career Management Branch, OPP Headquarters, 125 Lakeshore Blvd. East, Toronto, Ontario, telephone (416) 965-4468.

Bears are reported seen in Minden area

It has been reported that bear have been seen in the Minden area. On July 20, sightings were reported on the highway between Kinmount and Minden, and also in a private driveway on Horseshoe Lake Road. On July 19, at 2:45 p.m. a three-year-old male, weighing approximately 300 pounds was found dead in the West Guilford Dump. The Ministry of Natural Resources in Minden report that the bear was apparently shot in the head, possibly on Thursday evening or early Friday morning.

Anyone knowing the circumstances surrounding the shooting of this bear is asked to contact the Ministry of Natural Resources at Minden, Ontario, as they are anxious to learn more aobut this matter.

The Ministry cautions cottagers to keep garbage out of reach of these animals. If food is hard to come by, they will retreat into the bush and eat the berries that are now beginning to show. However, if they find easy pickings in your garbage pail, they're sure to stay around.

There is a closed season on bear at the present time, and the only legal reason for shooting them is self-defence.

Northern Skies

By Shirley Vank

As I stroll down the road
a hundred yards or so,
With night drawing nigh,
I behold
A sunset, so scarlet, one must realize
That His "maker" is not too far away in the fold.

Beyond these Northern skies,
A peace and contentment lies,
So serene, so quiet the night,
One can imagine he's on flite,
To a far away place called "Heaven"
Where scientists won't dare to explore,
Or even get near its door
Yes, that far away star
Could mark the place,
Where earth's vulture's never could trace;
And over behind old
"Elephant Lake"
You can see the rays of the Northern Lights.

Now, as the lull of the night surrounds me,
Somewhere, a whip-poor-will serenades me,
And as I walk on further,
I discover,
I have a companion, could it be a lover?
Well, it's "Jimmie, the chipmunk,
as smirk as can be,
And it's plain to be seen he wants company,
So he follows behind me up
the road,
As I walk slowly back to my peaceful abode.

As I enter my cabin, and light the lamp,
I lie down to rest, but
fall in a trance,
I dream of a haven
away in the pines,
And of the enchanted forest that's likely to enhance The hearts of many, who might happen to find,
This beautiful Paradise
'neath the "Northern Skies".

Carelessness causes drowning

Statistics don't make the most interesting reading, but they often reveal interesting facts. The 1973 drowning statistics, compiled by Red Cross Water Safety are no exception.

The total number of drownings--1939--was an increase of 173 over 1972. All of the increase was in age groups over 13 years of age. Parents of young children did an excellent job of supervision last year, but older children and adults became careless.

The biggest single increase--70--was in the age group 22 to 33 years of age, with the next largest increase--21--in the next oldest group, 34 to 46 years of age.

People in the prime of life, who should be the most capable of taking care of themselves, became careless. Breaking the rules of water safety is asking for tragedy.

For a safe, enjoyable summer of aquatic activity, Red Cross reminds you of the basic water safety rules:

- Always swim with someone else, never alone.
- Don't dive into water you don't know.
- Don't overload a boat. Always carry a government-approved personal flotation deivce (PFD) for every passenger. Children and poor swimmers should wear theirs at all times.
- Check weather reports before boat trips. Don't go if there is a storm warning.
- Don't mix alcohol and water.

No matter what your age, you can learn to swim with Red Cross Safety. Special adult classes teach you not only how to swim, but the techniques of personal survival and water rescue.

Find out why tourism down

Up to this point the tourist season in the Haliburton Highlands just doesn't seem to be on a par with other years. There just doesn't seem to be as many people around and don't let anyone kid you, business is down.

We have been talking to several people in business in both Minden, Haliburton and other areas in the Highlands plus some people who are in the resort and cottage business and they all report that business is down.

If this is true than what is the trouble? Some blame it on the gas shortage in the United States, others blame it on inflation while others say that people are going to other areas.

A local citizen brought up the argument the other day to the effect that we could be pricing ourselves out of the market here in the Highlands of Haliburton. The only way that we can find out the answer to this is by going to other tourist areas and finding out how our rates stack up with them. One thing that we can't do and that is to blame it on the weather. Its been pretty good hasn't it.

Letter to the editor

To the editor:

I have just talked with Mr. Bob Morrow, Chairman of your Centennial Committee regarding cancellation of our September 28th excursion.

We are pleased to confirm that the trip is not cancelled. Canadian National has cancelled the use of steam engine 6060 on this trip, but we have substituted 6060 with diesel engines for the total trip from Toronto to Haliburton.

RALLY AROUND THE GARAGE, BOYS

Occasionally, something interesting or unusual comes along to brighten the daily routine, just when it seems to be getting dreary. A couple of these happened to me recently.

First, the good Samaritans. The story really began one night last winter.

I have an ancient and venerable wooden garage, which bears on both sides of the entrance the honorable scars left by my wife and daughter as they tried at various times to get the car into the garage or out of it.

My wife is the only person of my acquaintance who can try to back a car out of a garage and get it wedged kitty-corner across the building. On several occasions I have almost had to have the garage demolished to get the car out.

Anyway, on this night last winter my wife and a friend were trying to close the garage door.

This door is as old as the garage, which will probably never see forty again. The door is not exactly electronically controlled.

It is a massive thing, about six inches thick, of hardwood. It would cost about a thousand dollars to build today. The chap who installed it was quite ingenious.

He installed a couple of rails, some pulleys, and two huge weights at the end of some heavy wire. While the door could not be raised and slid back with a couple of fingers, like those in a modern garage, a strong man, with a good heave, could get it up and sliding back along the rails.

I am not a particularly strong man. In fact, I am a weak one, in more ways than one, as my wife could tell you.

As a result, I usually left the garage door open. I couldn't see the point in all that heaving and hauling. This annoyed my wife. In the fall, leaves blew into the garage. In the winter, snow blew in. Neither bothered me, but you know what women are like.

Well, on the night in question, the two ladies decided to close the garage door, because the snow was blowing in. They gave a great heave, the wire came off the pulleys, and the door came off the rails.

Fortunately, the car was not in the garage, or I'd have been looking for a new car. The door weighs about six hundred pounds.

It did not come crashing right down, but hung, suspended by the wire, at a forty-five degree angle in the garage. You couldn't have driven a kiddy car in there.

I was going to organize a work party and get it back on the rails, but it was stormy, and then I got the 'flu and time went on and things cropped up, as they seem to.

A couple of times, I went out and looked at the stupid thing, and once tried to get it back on the rails, which almost gave me a double hernia.

Well, time went on and my wife nattered away about getting that door fixed and the neighbours dropped a few hints but I became sort of fond of that crazy thing hanging there, as one might get fond of a cross-eyed cat.

One fine evening recently, I was sitting in the back yard, enjoying my preprandial aperitif, when an old truck pulled up and a sweaty, dirty young man came through the gate.

Under the grime I identified Jamie Hunter, whom I taught last year. Grinning, he announced, "Mr. Smiley, I'm going to do something for Canadian literature." I was baffled. He went on, "When are you going to get your garage door fixed? "

"Oh, that. Any day now Jamie, as soon as I can find someone to do it. Why? "

"Well, every time Mike and I drive by and see that door, it bothers us. We're going to fix it for you."

"Great! ", enthusiastically. "How much? ", cautiously.

"It's not going to cost you a nickel." I insisted I would pay the going rate. He refused. They were doing it for Canadian literature. Jamie said they were pretty busy, and asked when I wanted it done. I said whenever they could get at it. I thought he meant in a couple or three weeks.

I went in to dinner, delighted at this display of gratitude or whatever. After dinner, I heard a bit of a din out back, and there they were, four young men, getting that ridiculous door back on the tracks.

I was almost overcome with something or other. All four were former students of mine: Mike Laurin, Mike Dragoman, John Sachs and Jamie Hunter. At least two of them had been working since eight o'clock that morning, and here they were, twelve hours later, slugging away at a brutal, awkward job for their old English teacher. I was touched. They absolutely refused any payment.

I was just as astonished as I was moved. Here were four young guys who, instead of moaning around about no employment, or living on welfare, had formed a loose partnership, and were doing construction, painting, anything they could get.

They were immediately offered the job of taking off my storm windows and painting my house. And that's how you get ahead in the world, which does NOT owe you a living, young man.

In addition to this lucky strike, I have Dan St. Amand, another student, and the best cornet player in the whole area, cutting my lawn, so all in all, it looks like a good summer.

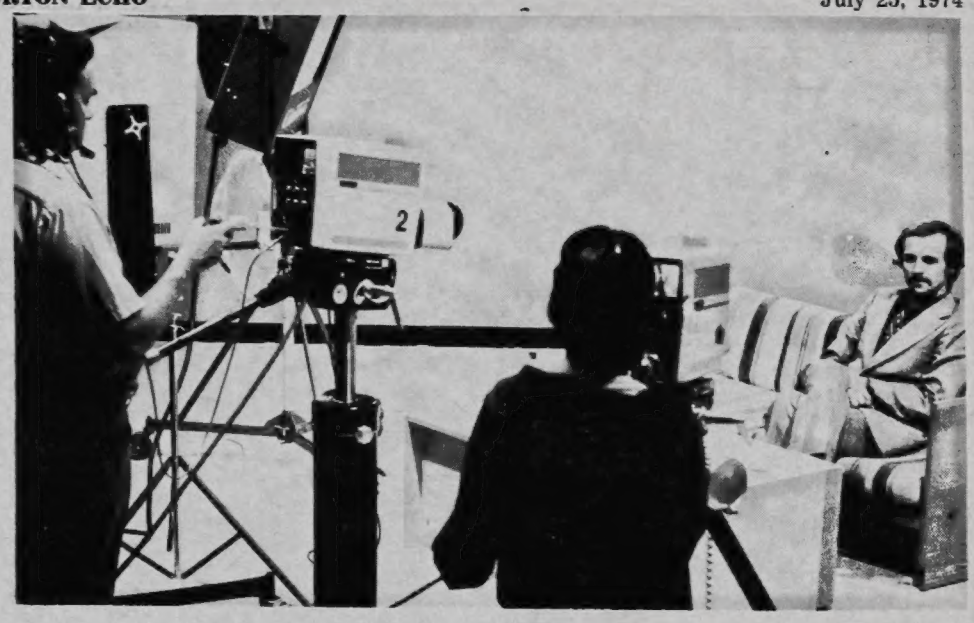
Donald Rennick receives PHD

Congratulations are in order for Dr.Donald F. Rennick, son of Mrs. F. O. Rennick of R.R. # 2, Haliburton, who recently taken up a postdoctoral position at the University of Essex in Colchester, England.

Don attended Haliburton Public and Secondary Schools before moving on to the University of Toronto where he obtained his Bachelor and Masters of Applied Science degrees in Mechanical Engineering. He has now completed the formal requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree, to be conferred at the University's fall convocation. The title of his Ph.D. dissertation was "Interaction Mechanisms in Single and Multiple Finite-Amplitude Acoustic Fields in Gas-Particulate Systems."

At the University of Essex, Don will be applying the knowledge acquired during his Ph.D. studies to a particular aspect of the deposition of particulates in the human lungs. Research on this topic is expected to be of benefit in several important areas. Several examples are industrial health, safety in nuclear engineering establishments, infection by bacteria, viruses and fungii, diagnosis of lung conditions and inhalation therapy.

Don was fortunate to acquire one of the six prestigious I. W. Killam Postdoctoral Fellowships available to all Ph.D's in Canada of every discipline who wish to undertake inter-disciplinary research. He has chosen to couple the fields of engineering and medicine.



Television tapes will become a third dimension of a module system of self-study that already uses written manuals and audio tapes, and was developed by the retraining division of Sir Sandford Fleming College for students in academic upgrading and college qualifying programs. Four pilot tapes recently were prepared in Sir Sandford's audio-visual studio, and more will be produced if this method of study proves popular with students, according to Peter Mazeikis, the division's co-ordinator of mathematics and science. Shown during a recent taping session are College audio-visual technician Jack Guthrie (left), fine arts student Yvonne Koehler (back to camera), and Mr. Mazeikis.

Library open house a success in Snowdon

The open house held at the Snowdon Library was a great success. Over fifty guests enjoyed a tea prepared by the library committee and staff and spent time watching a quilting in progress, examining a display of pioneer memorabilia set up by Lochlin residents and browsing in the library. Mrs. Celia Brown and the library committee would like to thank all those who helped make this occasion such a great success.

In response to requests from borrowers the library will be open on Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 4 in addition to its regular hours on Thursday from 7 to 9.

Memories

Well the election that no one seemed to want, and the country could have used the money to a better purpose is over, and the verdict was decisive.

Regardless of our political leanings we should all be happy that we have a government with a majority, that will give them power to govern. I think you will all agree they should buckle in and get down to business.

I am not a prophet, but I feel Robt. will shortly return to N.S. where he is well-loved and leave the Dominion Federal field to someone else.

Of course wee Willie Davis will be after the job, and I would say we will need some divine help then. So much for Ottawa.

I had a very interesting week, two fine young ladies from Minden, Miss Crawford, grand daughter of Sam Crawford, and Miss Johnson daughter of Soward Johnson. They were gathering all data they could find of the early pioneer days. This is needed badly, for this day is as far removed from then as the period of the stone age, grissly day when things were tough up to the present century.

This area is rich in history and should be preserved.

Now the tourist season is on we have many callers some of very long standing.

I believe my friend C.H. Irwin will be showing some slides of their Antarctic trip, this is very well worth seeing.

Our pulpit in the absance of Rev. James Bushell is ably filled first Rev. Harold Vaughan, and then Rev. Robert (Bob) Plant who have been summer visitors for many years, should be classed as residents very shortly.

See you next week.

PEACE BE WITH YOU!

The Victoria Road

In this year of 1974 it would be of interest to take a look at the early Colonization Roads of Haliburton County in their Centennial year celebrations. With this in mind I have found through research on early Government books and documents the following brief history:-

THE VICTORIA ROAD - This is a road that joined the Peterson and Monck Roads to the road system of Southern Victoria County road services, It today is generally the location of Highway 507.

In the year of 1867 we find the following comments in the Report of the Commissioner of Crown Roads for the year ending December 31st:-VICTORIA ROAD - From Lot 20 Fenelon West Town line north to the Peterson Road in Oakley, near the bridge on latter road, over the Black River, 38½ miles, made throughout at a cost of $13,277.84. During the years 1864 and 1866 $4,189.88 were expended on the first 20 miles of the road to repair damaged bridges and make general improvements. Total expenditures on the road, up to the present time is $17,467.72. The upper section of this road being poorly built needs much repair; about $2,000 would put it in a tolerable state of repair.

In the year of 1868 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - $300.00 was also appropriated to be expended for a similar purpose to that mentioned above on this road. The amount was transmitted to the Warden of the County, Joseph Staples Esp., for the above object. No report from the Warden has thus far been received. Expenditure $300.00.

In the year of 1869 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - An appropriation of $600.00 was made in August last, to be expended in repairs on the above road under the supervision of the County Council. The above amount has accordingly been laid out upon the section indicated, and vouchers for the expenditure are filed in this Department.

In the year 1871 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Four Thousand Dollars were appropriated to effect repairs upon this road. The work has been inspected.

In the year 1872 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Some eight or nine miles of this road north of the improvements of last year (1871) have been repaired. Total expenditure $767.67.

In the year 1873 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Some ten miles of this road have been repaired. Improvements commenced at the northeast corner of Eldon at Grass River, and were continued northward to the extent of the above distance. They consist of the usual works. viz; renewing and covering crossways, filling low places, removing boulders and stumps, cutting ditches and drains. The total expenditure this season is $714.69.

In the year 1876 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Nine and One-Fourth miles of this road have been improved this season, commencing where the repairs were ended last year. Expenditure $1,379.18.

In the year 1878 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - The Victoria Road has been improved from Victoria Station on the Toronto and Nipissing Railroad, northward to Head River crossing, a distance of nine miles. The usual repairs have been observed, such as stoning, crorning and drainage. One considerable hill, south of Head River, has been reduced by grading and forms an important part of the improvement done to this road this season. Expenditure $1,261.16.

In the year 1879 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - The repairs on this line were commenced about two miles south of the Monck line intersection, and were extended northward to a distance of four miles. The work has been very well performed, it has consisted mainly of grading, ditching and crossway covering. Expenditure $507.00: also noted was THE VICTORIA BRIDGE - This bridge is built across the Black River on the Victoria Road, a short distance south of the townline of Dalton. It is 156 feet long and 16 feet wide. The main span is 60 feet long, supported by a well-framed king post truss, with diagonal and lateral braces. The chords are bolted and the truss france bolted and plated throughout. The flooring is of flatted timber and the approaches are covered with flatted cedar. A strong had rail extends throughout on either side. The piers rest on solid rock foundations. Expenditure $679.00.

In the year 1881 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Fire, in this instance did serious damage to the road south of Uphill P.O. causing a very considerable expenditure in repairing the calamity. In addition, however, repairs were made over about 17 miles from about 6 miles south of the Nipissing Railway Crossing of the Road. The Victoria Council contributed $250.00 toward this work. Expenditure $740.89.

In the year 1882 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - The Victoria Council and the Government gave each $100 for this work. The money was spent upon the road south of Portage Road. A bridge was also constructed over Black Creek, about 8 miles north of Uphill, to replace one which has been completely destroyed by fire and thus rendering the road useless. A lot of crossway was also destroyed. Expenditure $1,080.09 for both road and bridge.

In the year 1884 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - These repairs were from Monck Road intersection northerly to Black River about 8 miles. A bridge was built over the creek about 3 miles north of Monck Road, 160 feet long. Expenditure $730.44.

In the year 1885 the comments were as follows:- VICTORIA ROAD - Repaired from Monck Road southerly to Talbot River about nine miles. Expenditure $400.00.

Other comments were made regarding the VICTORIA AND CAMERON JUNCTION ROAD, reading as follows:- Commences at Lot 1, Concession 3 and ends at Lot 35 Bexley. Four miles said to be well repaired. Expenditure $400.00.

It wasn't until the year 1874 that any mention was made of the CARDEN ROAD and they were as follows:- CARDEN ROAD - This road runs from the southerly boundary of Carden northward along the line between the 7th. and 8th. Concessions to the north boundary of the same township, thence to the intersection of the Monck Road. There have been about ten miles of road repaired. Paid from Departmental appropriation on account $330. and from Municipal contriburtion $300.00.

There was another gap of five years before remarks were noted in the year 1879 - CARDEN ROAD - About 6 miles of this road have been repaired. The road follows mainly the line between the 8th. and 9th. concessions. Considerable work on the above distance has been done across a beaver meadow, where the road has been heavily ditched and gravelled. Expenditure $150.00. Besides the above work, 6 miles of another line were repaired in the same township. Expenditure $150.

The Young Years

a serial by Eileen Caines

In a land where the fur is plentiful, Florrie learned, a man has to be out on the trails nearly every day, weather permitting. From before daylight in the morning, until he returned by the light of the moon and stars, Jeb would often be gone.

Then eating a well earned supper, cleanse and stretch the fur, and hang it to dry, in the spare bedroom of the cottage. "But that's only for this year", Jeb assured his wife, "Next summer I intend to build a "drying shed". We need extra room anyway, for all this trapping equipment".

Christmas day dawned bright and clear. Though the river was frozen hard and snow covered. and they could have rapidly travelled the distance to town, by dog sled, they elected to spend their first Xmas at home.

Going into the woods the day before, they had spent some time going from tree to tree, finally selecting one "exactly right", for the cabin. Hauling it home on the toboggan, it was stood in the warm cottage, to "thaw" for a couple of hours, before trimming.

Florrie had been very busy on the days she did not accompany Jeb on the trapline. She made long strings of coloured beads, and these were hung on the tree. Round disks, cut from cardboard dipped in coloured wax, and figures of birds and animals, carefully drawn and brightly coloured. The whole effect make their first tree beautiful, and the little cottage bright and cheerful.

Roast mallard duck, with all the trimmings, and blueberry pie made from fruit canned in the fall. "Makes a man hungry, just to smell", was Jeb's appreciative comment.

Florrie's gift to Jeb was a beautiful hand knit sweater, white with a deer outlined in red, across the back. His to her a perfectly formed placque, with the words "God bless our home", carved with infinite care in Jeb's hand writing. Simple home made gifts, given with love and devotion. Are there any better?

One morning on into the middle of January, Florrie witnessed a grim fact of nature's drama. On her way to the river, for a pail of water, her attention was caught by the sight of a pack of wolves, chasing a lone deer.

Across the clearing and down onto the frozen ice, the deer ran, the howling, snapping wolves in hot pursuit. The caught the deer just as it reached the opposite bank of the river.

What followed was swift and terrible, and while Florrie's sympathy was for the deer, yet she knew the wolves too, must eat. Did not she and Jeb depend on game for their meat, and also for their livelihood?

This too, as Jeb had often said, kept nature's law in balance. If there were no hunters and no hunted, then all would starve eventually. Only man, if he got too greedy, could upset nature's careful balance. That this was to happen, years later, Jeb and Florrie could not know, or if they had, could not have stopped.

All that first winter, hardly a week passed that Florrie did not accompany Jeb, for a day or two on the trapline. Often they paused while Jeb explained the tracks of one animal, or another to her. Or stopped to observe the silent white stillness. The beauty of dazzling sunlight, making diamond jewels on the snow.

Other days she stayed home, washing, cleaning, cooking. If she felt like getting outside, when her work was done she would harness one of the dogs to the toboggan, and be pulled swiftly over the snow. Frun filled healthy exercise, putting roses in her cheeks from the cold fresh air.

She could if she wished, follow the frozen river into town, in this manner, but these trips were rare, and mostly from necessity, for she preffered to stay at home. She loved this life, this "world of their own", amidst nature's wilderness.

And so the winter passed, and soon the wild geese returned. Flock after flock, passing over the little cottage. The ice and snow melted, and the river flowed free again. The traps were gathered and put away to await another season.

They were busy, that second summer, as they has been the first. Cutting another winter's wood, planting another garden, building the promised drying shed, making small improvements to the cabin, and surrounding area.

But there were long, warm, lazy summer days also. Days of quiet peaceful fishing, picnics on lovely, lonely, isolated shores. Evenings when they stopped on some beach, or rocky point and cooked fresh caught trout, on an open fir.

All to soon summer went her way, and the scarlet golden leaves of October came. Winter came early that year, and although the mercury did not dip so low as usual till on into January, the snow fell thick and fast. Four feet, or more, lay on the ground by Xmas, which made things difficult for Jeb, on the trapline.

But they had other things to think about that winter, for Florrie was expecting a baby in February. One dull grey afternoon, near the end of December, Florrie's attention was drawn from her knitting by the barking of the dog Snowball. Looking out she saw Rex running toward the house, the fur filled toboggan trailing behind.

Opening the door, she waited, and as the big dog reached her, he leaped up barking urgently, then turned and bounded some distance away, back across the clearing, in the direction he had come from. Then he stopped, looked at Florrie, and barked again.

Florrie knew at once something had happened to Jeb. This was a prearranged signal between them. If anything was amiss, Jeb would send the dog home alone.

Quickly dressing in warm clothing, and taking a thermos of hot tea, she harnessed Snowball to her toboggan, and followed Rex, first removing the fur from his toboggan.

About two miles from home, following the hard beaten snowshoe trail, they found Jeb. He had tripped, he told her painfully, his speech coming in ragged gasping breaths, and fallen over a steep embankment. Sending the dog home, he had managed to crawl up onto the trail, through the deep snow.

Florrie gave him the hot tea, got him on the toboggan and started Rex on the homeward trail, she following with Snowball. Once again she marvelled with gratitude in her heart, at the performance of the two faithful dogs. Though Jeb, fortunatley had no broken bones, he was stiff and sore, and was "housebound" for a week.

Two weeks befor the baby was expected Jeb bundled Florrie in warm blankets, on the dog sled, and took her into town to stay at her cousin's place. The baby, a strong healthy boy, was born on the last day of February; and two weeks later Jeb brought his family home.

Two years later a baby girl was born. This time at home, with only Jeb's help, the baby coming in April, at a time when the ice had not yet left the river, but was too dangerous to travel on. Three years later another boy was added, this one also born at home.

And so their peaceful, quiet lives went on, until their first born son, David, was ten years old. But changes were fast taking place elsewhere, which were to affect their lives greatly.

The little town four miles upriver was growing rapidly, its population increasing, and lumbering became a large industry. By the time David was twelve years old, it was no longer necessary to depend on the river to get into town. A road, cut through the bush, for the purpose of drawing logs to the mill in town, ran fifty yards behind the cottage. The children walked to school, no longer needing to take government correspondence lessons.

Trapping could no longer be Jeb's way of life. As the forest fell to the axe and saw, the fur bearing animals moved on; but Jeb with a wife and family, could not follow.

Farming, then, became their alternative. Soon, instead of forest, the cottage, increased in size along with the children, was surrounded by green fertile fields.

Getting the land in shape for farming was no easy task. It meant falling the trees, removing the stumps, ploughing, harrowing, disking, all this and more. It meant also using the logs to build barns, and stables, to house cattle, horses, and other farm animals.

A very different life, but one which left them the open country to enjoy. A profitable life it was, as well, raising and selling produce to the fast growing lumber town.

And so the years passed. The children grew, and married, had children of their own. David elected to stay on the farm with his Father. When he married he built a cottage of his own, near his parents.

Swiftly the years brought many changes. By the time David's children were of school age, a bus picked them up, almost at their door. Motor boats passed daily, up the river, replacing the longboats.

Farming was done by machinery. Electric lights took place of coal-oil lamps, or candles. Radio, brought not only news of the world, and music, but made a lovely piece of furniture, as well. No longer was it necessary to carry water from the river. The turning of a tap, replaced this.

At Christmas, when the cottage was ablaze with bright electric lights, inside and out, the children and grandchildren home, Jeb and Florrie were happy. Happy, yes, but they remembered the Xmas's of years passed, and knew that these too, had been good.

Jeb, an old man of eighty some years, left them peacefully, one night in his sleep. Florrie was in her seventy-ninth year. David built a large new addition to the original cottage, and he and his wife and family, moved in with his Mother. In this way she had her own part of the house, to do as she pleased, and yet was cared for, in warmth and love.

******** ********

The child awoke, slid over the side of the bed, and raced across the hall, to his Grandmother's room. Seeing her sitting still in her rocker by the window, he scrambled onto her lap. Placing fat little arms around her neck, little Jebby, this small version of his Grandfather, pleaded, "Tell me a story Granny, please, tell me a story of Grandpa, and his dogs, and his trapline in the forest".

IMPORTANT NOTICE

TO

SUBSCRIBERS

Recently it has come to our attention that a number of subscribers are in arrears and have not renewed their subscriptions to date. Billing and renewal notices have in the past been sporadic due to the illness and unfortunae death of Mrs Feir and because of the recent change of ownership.

Subscribers who are in arrears will soon be notified and invoiced for the arrears on a monthly pro-rate basis in accordance with subscription rates in effect at that time and will also receive a renewal notice which should be returned along with the proper remittance to our office.

For our subscribers the following policy will be strictly adhered to.

Haliburton County Subscribers

a) Subscribers whose subscription expired on or before Nov 30/73 will be billed at a rate of $3.00 per year or 25c per month for arrears up to that date. (Nov 30).

Thereafter until June 17/74 they will be billed at a rate of $4.50 per year or 38c per month for arrears.

Subscription renewals will become effective from Aug 1/74 and will be charged at a rate of $6.00 per year. The renewal charge is in addition to the arrears and subscribers who have not paid arrears and renewals by Aug 31 will be removed from the mailing list.

b) Subscribers whose subscription expired on or after Dec 1/73 but before July 17/74 will not be billed for arrears and have until Aug 15/74 to renew their subscription at a rate of $4.50 per year. Renewals will be effective from the date of expiry. Subscribers renewing their subscription after Aug 15 will be charged for arrears at a rate of $4.50 per year and renewals will be charged at an annual rate of $6.00. Renewals effective as received.

c) Subscribers whose subscription expires after July 17 will be charged for renewals at the new rate of $6.00 per year.

Non-County and Foreign Subscribers

Generally, the same policy for pro-rating arrears and time periods applies as above except that actual rates will differ as outlined previously.

Thank you for your continued co-operation.

Preserving and improving our wildlife habitat

The increasing urbanization of rural areas can have considerable effect on the quantity and variety of local wildlife populations.

Early settlement of southern Ontario changed the landscape from woodland to agricultural land. Fence rows were constructed of stumps, rails and stones. Over the years these were allowed to grow up to shrubs, vines, berries and trees, and as a result, provided an excellent habitat for birds and small mammals as well as fruit and berries for human consumption.

This concept has changed in recent years, however, as modern agricultural practices now regard the hedgerows as uneconomical and replaces them with quick to erect and cheap to maintain wire fences. As a result, the hedgerows have and are still disappearing and their inhabitants have gone with them.

The problem is not confined to the farm, however. With the pace of life becoming ever faster and our rural roads seeing increased pressure from vehicle use, road rights-of-way are being cleared further back from the travelled surfaces to improve safety and ease of maintenance. To ensure no regrowth of trees, rights-of-way are sprayed. Blanket spraying is indiscriminate in that it kills almost all trees, shrubs and wild flowers. This creates not only an unsightly view, but a reduction in the vegetation complex that a great many birds and mammals call home.

It is only natural that rights-of-way be maintained in a safe condition, but biological vegetation management can accomplish the same ofjective of excluding unwanted tree species, as can spraying and with far more pleasing results. Spraying is a continuing program. The establishment and maintenance of dense crops of wildlife shrubs and vies, such as Highbush cranberry, Nannyberry and Wild Grape, can act as a smother crop, preventing undesirable vegetation from becoming established. Dense cover makes such places more attractive for nesting birds. Not only do the shrubs and vines provide cover for wildlife, the berries are an important food supply both summer and winter.

Perhaps, the most obvious benefit of biological rights-of-way management is the potential atractiveness of our rural roadsides to those seeking a relaxed walk or drive down them. From spring until fall the colours of the flowers, fruit and leaves of our native flowers and shrubs provide a stark contrast in beauty to brown, singed appearance of vegetation sprayed with chemicals.

For the property owner, hedgerow establishment and maintenance, can pay dividends both in increased property values and in improving wildlife cover and food. Existing hedgerows can be let grow with selective cutting of undesirable trees and other species at intervals to encourage desirable shrubs. Supplemental plantings of shrubs and conifer trees in openings will also aid in the quick regrowth of wide, irregular and continuous hedgerows; a most desirable habitat for many species of wildlife. Interested landowners may obtain free of charge a booklet entitled "Wildlife Land Management" at Ministry of Natural Resources offices.

This year the Lindsay office will be collecting seed from the following wildlife shrubs: Highbush cranberry, Nannyberry and Juneberry. The seed will be sown at Provincial Nurseries to produce wildlife shrubs suitable for outplanting.

Hall's Lake News

Mr. and Mrs. Mills of Port Perry are having a vacation in Mr Hart's home while he is visiting in Edmonton and Spokane, Washington.

The lake levels are very high and people are noticing the difference in the width of their sand beaches this summer. Usually by July the waters have gone down. Lucky we are however, not to have had the floods they had around Kitchener and Bridgeport.

Mr. Walter Izzard is at his summer home here on the lake and has been on the sick list, but we do hope he will soon be well again.

Different summer people both last year and this year have told us of the efficient care they received at the Minden Red Cross Hospital when emergencies came up.

The Wilson family have moved into the Ellis' cottage and seem to be enjoying it very much.

Mr and Mrs L. Penick of Hamilton are staying at their cottage and attended services at St. Stephen's and St. Paul's churches. The Penicks have been very generous in supplying gay ribbons to the Craft Department of Hyland Crest Home over the years, and the residents have made dozens of cushions and decorations, and even the beautiful Hyland Crest used for the Centennial Choir was made out of these lovely ribbons. They may be summer folk but they keep their ears tuned to what is going on and try to help out wherever they can. The Penicks used to run a florist shop in Hamilton and supply lilies for the church at Easter and floral bouquets at different times of the year. We do thank them for these contributions.

The Annual Bazaar which the Guild of St. Stephen's Church hold each year is coming up on July 31 starting at 3 P.M. There will be Home Baking, Home-Made fancy goods and quilts and also afternoon tea. The Ladies of the group do a lot of wonderful things with the proceeds from this effort and they would appreciate your patronage.

A good number of customers are now buying the Haliburton Echo and commenting on the improved reading and the coverage of surrounding areas. A lot of work goes into putting a paper together and we appreciate the efforts of the local papers owners and their staffs.

Mr and Mrs Al. Exon and family who have been coming up to Peach Lake for over twenty years are enjoying the Summer at their cottage. It is always nice to see familiar faces year after year.

Several cottagers from around the Lake attended the July Stanhope Council meeting. Dr. George Morrow and Robert Morrow who is a Hamilton comptroller, and Daniel Regan were among the ones who attended the meeting.

Dr. Paul Greenhow and his wife and family of young boys are enjoying their pleasant spot here on the Lake. They are from London.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay have purchased a home here on the Lake and will be retiring here, but Mr. Lindsay expects to be kept busy doing carpentry work. We welcome them to Hall's Lake.

Mr and Mrs Donald York of Mississauga and Mrs Verna Jarvis have purchased the Jarvis home at Mountain Lake. Mrs Jarvis is a sister to Mrs Mark Brown and we think it is nice that the sisters will live within easy visiting distance from each other.

The Home Baking and Rummage Sale held by Club 35 members last Wednesday was quite successful -- the usual stampede and everything gone within a very short period of time. The work load falls on a few faithful ones as others are busy with summer business, but friends and relatives of members helped out and this was much appreciated too.

Gems of Truth

DAYS OF APOSTASY

Apostasy is the wilful rejection of revealed Bible truth. It differs from ignorance regards truth, by plain rejection of it as God has given it. Bible truth is rejected by many so-called teachers of it and God calls them apostates. 2 Timothy 3:13, 2 Peter 2:1-3. All Christians should be on guard against accepting their teaching. Jesus urged Christians to test teachers by their fruits. Matthew 7:15-16. They should be tested by God's Word. If their teaching contradicts the Bible they offer no true light from God. Isaiah 8:20. The prophet Jeremiah describes them thus "I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them yet they prophesied". Jeremiah 23:21.

Nothing surpasses God's Word in discerning false and apostate teachers. All systems of error and apostasy disbelieve what the Bible teaches about the Person of Jesus Christ, especially His deity and incarnation. If the Word cannot be trusted when it says that Jesus is God the Son, co-equal with the Father and God the Spirit, then no other part of it can truly be believed. Apostates stumble at and reject this important revelation of Jehovah God, thus rather believing Satan's lie about the Eternal Son. 1 John 4:1-3.

Everyone who disobeys or compromises Bible truth, especially that concerning Jesus Christ, is aiding the coming Antichrist, who is even now desperately trying to destroy truth as it is in Jesus Christ.

Jesus offers victory over all Bible error, apostasy and antichristian influence and work to all truly born-again children of His. 1 John 4:4. People in general are apt to follow false teaching because it soothes their conscience. 2 Peter 2:1-2.

The reception of God's Bible truth concerning Jesus Christ is evidence as to whether or not one belongs to the true family of God. 1 John 4:5-6.

SCRIPTURE MEDITATION: "Hereby know we the Spirit of truth, and the spirit of error". 1 John 4:6 (b)

The Haliburton County Public Library System

HISTORY

When the Haliburton County Public Library System was established in 1965 its municipal libraries in the County became unified under one system of book purchasing, processing, circulating procedures and policies and so all the books in all municipal libraries became available to all county residents and all municipal library staff became members of County Library staff. The library buildings and equipment however have remained the reponsibility of the municipality and are administered through a local library committee comprised of one member of municipal council and several interested residents. These committees have been instrumental in improving library service in the county through their work in establishing new libraries and in enlarging accommodation of established collections.

In January 1965, Haliburton County had the services of two branch libraries in Haliburton(Dysart) and Minden with a stock of approximately 8,000 uncatalogued books. During that year library collections were established in Tory Hill, Cardiff Townsite, Gooderham, Dorset and Harcourt. In addition the County Library System provided for book deposits at 52 public school rooms in the County and at the High School. In 1966 a branch was established in Snowdon at the Lochlin Public School & The Monmouth branch found larger quarters in Wilberforce. 1967 was a year of changes in almost all libraries in the County. Minden underwent extensive renovations, Dysart's library moved from its cramped quarters in the municipal building to the present library building next door, Monmouth, Bicroft, Glamorgan, Snowdon & Sherborne all renovated and expanded services, the Harcourt sub-station was closed and a new sub-station was added to Oxtongue to serve the Eastern portion of Sherborne Township.

The book collection was now 9,239 volumes and operation expenses were $23,705. the Oxtongue Lake station was not a success and was closed the next year and no new branches were established. In 1970 new libraries were opened at Highland Grove, (Cardiff Township) and the Stanhope Branch beside the Municipal Office at Maple Lake. 1971 saw no changes except in Monmouth where the library moved three times in six months! Their final quarters is the present building in Wilberforce, a tribute to the hard work and dedication of the community. In 1972 the Glamorgan Township Council used the winter works incentive grant to build a new library in Gooderham which was finished in 1973. The increase of space has meant an increase in activity at this branch. School classes visit regularly.

All local library committees are instrumental in the successful operations of the Haliburton County Public Library System since it is through their efforts that branch outlets continue to grow and library services in the community to expand.

The County now has nine branches and a book stock of 23,600 volumes which rotate regularly thus giving even the smallest branch a large and diversified book collection.

YOUR CENTRE FOR INFORMATION AND ENTERTAINMENT

The Haliburton County Public Library System offers a variety of services to residents of the County at no direct cost to them. Book review literature and publishers' catalogues guide staff in the selection of the best of the latest books to fill the public's growing demands for light reading and information. In addition to its own collection in the County the Haliburton County Public Library has access, through inter-library loan, to the Regional book collections in Peterborough, Kingston and Belleville. This service is made available through membership in the Lake Ontario Regional Library System which also provides technical and professional services, films, filmstrips and special purposes funds to our system.

The Lake Ontario Regional Library System is supported through Provincial Government grants based on the area and population served by it. Approximately $7,000 is given to the Region by the Province for the benefit of ounty residents. In addition to having access to tens of thousands of books each qualified County resident may borrow, at a nominal charge, films, filmstrips and viewing equipment from the County Library office in Haliburton. As a member of the Eastern Film Federation, Haliburton County Public Library receives 60 films on deposit for six months, plus 20 extra films circulating every two months. These films cover a wide range of subject matter to appeal to a variety of audiences.

Other material available for laon through your local library are periodicals, including popular magazines, large print books for those with deficient sight, and the contents of extensive pamphlet files.

Available for use in the library are up-to-date encyclopedias for both adults and children and other reference books for those looking for information on any subject.

The County Library System through its municipal libraries supports related services in the library such as film programmes, children's storytimes, special displays and visits of school classes in an effort to attract new borrowers and to serve the varied interests of its membership.

All the above services are available to all Ratepayers at no direct cost as the county Library System is supported entirely by County and Provincial grants. Come and discover what your tax dollars have helped to provide.

Be informed and entertained - - - Come to the library!

THE FUTURE

During Haliburton County's Centennial the County Library System plans further expansion having as its aim the extension of services to those who are not presently regular users of library facilities. A books-by-mail service will be established by summer to provide books and magazines to those in the County who are unable, because of sickness or disability to visit their local library. this service will be run from the County office in Haliburton at no cost to members. Several special children's programmes will be conducted in the County during the summer. It is hoped that these will include plays and a puppet show. Watch your newspaper for further advertising regarding these events. Tickets will be free to all library members. Collections of paper-back books will be placed in the two County Red Cross Hospitals. These books will be available without charge to all hospital patients.

A study will be made this year of the practicability of making regular book deposits at points where summer population is more dense and far removed from the nearest library. Cottagers Associations are asked to contact the County Library Office if they think such a book deposit would receive wide use in their area.

A collection of local history print materials is being assembled at the County Office. It is hoped that these materials will be duplicated so that all local libraries will be able to have a collection of materials related to the history of their area. In addition we hope to publish a bibliography of print materials related to the history of our County in co-operation with the Lake Ontario Regional Library System. This bibliography will note locations of and descriptions of materials listed and will be of value to all those interested in the early days of our County.

Closer co-operation with the Haliburton County Board of Education is proposed for the future in an effort to eliminate expensive duplication of library service in the County and to provide a broader service base for all residents.

The library has been officially recognized as an important contributor to the education and entertainment of all sectors of population and it is hoped that the residents of Haliburton County will similarly recognize the value of their libraries and will support them in every way especially in the County's Centennial Year.

Municipality of Dysart Et Al

NOTICE

THIS MUNICIPALITY IS AGAIN EXPERIENCING GREAT DIFFICULTY IN MAINTAINING DUMPSITES TO THE MINISTRY OF THE ENVIRONMENT STANDARDS.

THIS DIFFICULTY IS BEING CREATED BY THE NON-COOPERATION OF CITIZENS AND VISITORS ALIKE WHO REFUSE TO CO-OPERATE WITH OUR DUMP CARETAKERS IN MAKING SURE GARBAGE IS DUMPED OVER THE BANK -- NOT ON THE ROADWAY.

IN THE FUTURE, OFFENDERS WILL BE CHARGED BY THE TOWNSHIP WHEN WE ARE ABLE TO DETERMINE WHO THEY ARE. FAILING A VAST IMPROVEMENT THE SITES WILL BE GATED AND A PROGRAM OF CONTROLLED DUMPING HOURS INSTIGATED.

I TRUST WE MAY HAVE THE CO-OPERATION OF ALL IN THIS REGARD SINCE THE ONLY OTHER ALTERNATIVE WILL UNDOUBTEDLY PROVE AN INCONVENIENCE TO MOST.
